

ASSASSIN IS IN AUBURN PRISON

Czolgosz Collapsed When He Reached Prison Gates Today.

CROWD MEETS HIM

Only Large Force of Officers Prevented Him from Being Promptly Lynched.

SHOWED HIS TERROR

Auburn, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Leon Czolgosz now occupies a cell in the murderers' row in Auburn prison. He will remain under the constant watch of two guards until October 28th, the date set for his electrocution and will be permitted to see no one but the priest.

Czolgosz collapsed completely when he reached the prison at three o'clock this morning. Pale and trembling he was dragged from the train by the guards and was handcuffed between two deputies. Twenty local policemen attempted to keep back the crowd over three hundred of which surged about the assassin clamoring for his life.

His Legs Gave away

The prison gates swung open and the assassin was pushed through, but not before some of the crowd had rained blows on the officers and the prisoner. As the assassin reached the prison steps his legs gave way. Moaning and shrieking he was dragged to the prison office and placed on the settee. Scant ceremony was accorded him. The prisoners physician administered a dose of brandy. This revived him somewhat and the attendants ordered him to stand up.

Czolgosz tried to rise, but fell to the floor. The keepers then stripped him and attired him in a suit of stripes. Then he was hustled to his cell, where he partially recovered from his fright and resumed his manner of stolid indifference.

Judge Passes Sentence

In passing sentence upon the assassin yesterday afternoon Justice White said: "You have said according to the testimony of credible witnesses and yourself, that no other person aided or abetted you in the commission of this terrible act. God grant that it may be so. The penalty for the crime for which you stand convicted is fixed by this statute and it now becomes my duty to pass this judgment against you."

"The sentence of the court is that in the week beginning October 28, 1901, at the place, in the manner and means prescribed by law, you suffer the punishment of death."

"Remove the prisoner."

The words "Remove the prisoner" seemed fraught with the weight of all the silence that had gone before. For almost a minute none in the courtroom moved and then as the guards took possession of their prisoner and the handcuffs rattled the spell was broken. A buzz of wonder went rapidly around the room. The judge had omitted the customary formula, with which nearly every sentence of death concludes "and may God have mercy on your soul."

The Death Warrant

The death warrant signed by Justice White is addressed to the agent and warden of Auburn state prison and directs him to execute the sentence of the court within the walls of the prison on some day during the week beginning October 28 next by causing "to pass through the body of the said Leon F. Czolgosz a current of electricity of sufficient intensity to cause death and that he application of the said current of electricity be continued until the said Leon F. Czolgosz, be dead."

MRS. M'KINLEY IS STEADILY GAINING

Took a Longer Drive Yesterday, and Seemed to Enjoy It—Goes to Cemetery Every Day.

Canton, O., Sept. 27.—Mrs. McKinley has been visited by several of her most intimate friends. While she gives way to grief which is uncontrollable every time reference is made to her loss, she is making a hard struggle to do as she is told and overcome the painful emotion that has been hers. She daily asks to be taken to the cemetery and her request is granted. Yesterday the afternoon drive which she took with Mrs. Barber and Dr. Rixey was extended, and it seemed to stimulate her. Dr. Rixey considers her condition as very hopeful and says his patient has gained some strength.

ENDS HIS LIFE IN DESPAIR

Menominee Man Depressed by Reading Medicine Advertisements.

Menominee, Wis., Sept. 27.—Edward Kolkind, son of Andrew Kolkind, near this city, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He lived about an hour. It is believed he became mentally depressed by reading lurid patent medicine advertisements. He was 25 years old and unmarried.

INDIANA MAN CRIES HIMSELF TO DEATH

Caleb Harvey Dies as Result of Grieving Over the Assassination of His Friend McKinley.

LaPorte, Ind., Sept. 27.—Caleb Harvey, an old and wealthy resident of this city, died here today as a direct result of grieving over the assassination and death of President McKinley.

The physicians who attended Mr. Harvey say that he literally cried himself to death. He wept for hours continuously from the afternoon the president was shot, and while in these paroxysms of grief his suffering was intense.

It was found impossible to control or assuage his grief, and up to the hour of his dissolution he wailed constantly. Mr. Harvey was an ardent admirer of McKinley. The physicians consider the case without precedent in medical jurisprudence.

TOBACCO DEALERS AIM TO COMBINE

British Combine to Fight the American Company, a Result of the Present Invasion.

London, Sept. 27.—The prospect of American competition is agitating tobacco manufacturers and dealers in the United Kingdom, who do not like the invasion of their market by the American tobacco company. A movement has been started to form a dealers' alliance for co-operative action in combating the American combination.

TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF SCHLEY

The Commander of the Dupont Testifies That He Had Established Picket Lines.

Washington, Sept. 27.—It had been intended by Judge Advocate Lemly to follow up the examination of the Scout ship captains at this morning's session of the Schley court of inquiry, but they were not available, so he decided to call several witnesses who are anxious to leave the city.

Captain Wise resumed the stand to correct his testimony of yesterday. He said that the dispatches given him for delivery to Schley directed him later to proceed with all possible haste to Santiago. As he found Schley at Santiago he did not deem it necessary to inform Schley of his movements.

Lieut. Spencer Wood, who commanded the Dupont, testified that his vessel was on the picket line. This is an important statement for the Schley side, as it was maintained that he failed to establish picket lines.

THE REBELS ARE NEARING PANAMA

Three Forces of Colombian Insurgents Threatening the Capital City—Fierce Fighting Expected.

Colon, Sept. 27.—Panama for a week or more has been much unsettled owing to apparently well-founded reports brought by incoming steamers and received from other sources which assert that an expedition numbering between 150 and 200 men, under General Domingo Diaz, which sailed from Corinto, Nicaragua, two weeks ago, effected a safe landing at a place called Chame, about fifty miles south of Panama. Chame offers splendid natural facilities for resisting an attack, and the expedition is said to be well armed and equipped and to be in possession of modern guns.

ANOTHER FILIPINO LEADER GIVES UP

Colonel Atienza and His Staff Surrender to Captain Pitcher After a Long Chase.

Manila, Sept. 27.—Colonel Atienza, with his entire staff, has surrendered to Captain Pitcher, who had been in close pursuit of him since Lieutenant Hazzard captured the deserter Howard in his camp. Martinez, Ana and Villaluz, the last insurgent officers in the Province of South Camarines, have surrendered to Captain Williams, putting an end to the insurrection in that province.

ALL EXPENSES PAID BY J. P. MORGAN

New York, Sept. 27.—J. Pierpont Morgan and fourteen guests, all ministers, left his morning for San Francisco to attend the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church. The train was the most palatial that ever started across the continent. All expenses are borne by Morgan.

Divorce for Mrs. George M. Pullman Chicago, Sept. 27.—The wife of Geo. M. Pullman, son of the late palace car magnate, was granted a divorce and one thousand dollars a year alimony this morning. Mrs. Pullman charged desertion. Mr. Pullman is in California.

IDENTIFY BODY OF A. LINCOLN; REMAINS FOUND IN GOOD SHAPE

Final Burial of the Martyr President—Features Easily Recognized by Those Who Knew Him—Casket Opened Despite Protest of Son.

Springfield, Sept. 27.—For the thirteenth time the body of Abraham Lincoln was moved yesterday. The casket containing the remains now lies imbedded in an iron cage within a solid block of cement beneath the monument in Oak Ridge cemetery.

The casket was opened and eighteen persons were permitted to look upon the features of the great emancipator before the body was lowered to what is now believed to be its last resting place. Governor Yates, who is out of the state, was represented on the Board of Trustees of the National Lincoln Monument by Acting Governor John J. Brenholt of Alton. Identification is Positive.

The identification of the remains was positive. The features are said to have been extremely pallid, and it is said that this condition is due to a film that has crept over the face. The beard could be plainly seen and the chin was prominent, while the hair had begun to fall out. The headrest had decayed, letting the head fall back.

The shirt front was well preserved, as was also the black silk stock that Lincoln wore about his neck. The rest of the clothing had commenced to fall to pieces.

A Sacriligious Act

Just who is responsible for the opening of the casket in the face of the avowed opposition of Colonel Robert T. Lincoln is difficult to ascertain. It is generally admitted by those present, however, that the pro-

FARMERS' CONGRESS MEETS ON OCT. 12

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 27.—The twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Farmers' National congress will begin here October 12. The governors of nearly all the states have appointed delegates, and an attendance of at least 1,500 is anticipated. The object of the organization is to promote closer social and friendly relations between persons in different sections of the country interested in husbandry and to disseminate a wider knowledge of the best methods for the advancement of agricultural interests in the United States.

Governor Charles N. Harrier will welcome the delegates to the state, and among those who will respond on behalf of the organization are Governor Savage of Nebraska, and ex-Governor Hoard of Wisconsin. Among those on the program for addresses are:

John Hamilton, secretary of the state board of agriculture, Pennsylvania; Eugene Secor of Iowa; O. C. Gregg, Minnesota; J. B. Foley of Louisiana; Harvie Jordan, Georgia; Charles V. Knight, Illinois; Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews, Nebraska; John E. Brown, Indiana; M. S. Greeley, S. Dakota and J. R. Dodge, Washington, D. C.

PRES. SHAFFER ACCEPTS THE DEF.

Says He Will Submit to an Investigation of His Course in the Collapsed Steel Strike.

Pittsburg, Sept. 27.—When President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers was shown the open letter issued last night by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, in reply to his statement charging them with the responsibility for the failure of the great steel strike, he said: "I will accept their challenge, and am ready to submit to an investigation, but as he always looks to arbitration that is what I will agree to. I desire to go to the root of this matter, and will select as my man Simon Burns, president of the Knights of Labor and the National Window Glass Workers' association. Mr. Burns can choose a second man and Gompers and Mitchell the third."

POPE'S PHYSICIAN ALARMED

Pontiff is Suffering From a Slight Intestinal Trouble.

Rome, Sept. 27.—Pope Leo is suffering today from slight intestinal trouble, which nevertheless causes his medical attendant, Dr. Laponi, some alarm on account of his holiness' advanced age.

GREEN BAY MAN IN BISHOP'S PLACE

Madison, Wis., Sept. 27.—(Special) Gov. La Follette yesterday afternoon appointed Gustav Kustermann, a leading business man and prominent German of Green Bay, as a member of the state board of control, to succeed George W. Bishop of Rhinelander, who resigned about a month ago. The term for which the appointment was made expires April 15, next.

RUMOR KITCHNER HAS RESIGNED

Quit His Command in South Africa Because of Disagreement with Secretary of War.

London, Sept. 27.—The Daily News publishes an unconfirmed rumor that Lord Kitchener has resigned the post of commander-in-chief in South Africa, owing to disagreements with Mr. Brodrick, the war secretary.

British Stockade Crowded

London, Sept. 27.—The official returns just issued shows the South African concentration camps in August contained 137,619 persons. The deaths numbered 2,345, of which 1,878 were children.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times quotes the Wiener Tagblatt, which says a movement is on foot for sympathizers with the Boers in all countries to hold meetings. Promises of adhesion to the plan have been received from Germany, Austria, France, Russia and other countries.

ROOSEVELT WILL STAND BY SOUTH

President Will Follow M'Kinley's Policy in Fighting Any Plan to Reduce Representation.

Washington, Sept. 27.—"I will support President McKinley's policy so far as it relates to the South, tooth and nail. On this I have made up my mind absolutely and unequivocally. The late president's course regarding the south had my hearty cooperation and approbation, and you can say to your friends who are interested in developing and carrying out that policy that I will stand by them."

These are President Roosevelt's words to Senator Pritchard of North Carolina during a conference regarding the president's policy towards the south. Senator Pritchard, like Senator McLaurin of South Carolina, was very anxious to know if President Roosevelt proposed to depart from the work of his predecessor, and if so, what lines he might traverse.

President Roosevelt went into the matter more fully than stated in the foregoing and indicated that, like President McKinley, he is opposed to existing and contemplated representation in congress on account of the exclusion of the negro vote.

PLAYED THE SAME OLD "CHECK GAME"

Madison, Wis., Sept. 27.—(Special) The familiar old "check game" in an improved form was worked successfully yesterday on several boarding house keepers in this city by a shrewd crook who gave the name of Joseph C. Fox. Just how large a harvest he reaped is not known, as some of his victims, who have not attempted to cash their checks, do not know that they have been "done." The first to report to the police was Mrs. John Topp, who keeps a students' rooming house, and who is out through the stranger's smoothness.

Fox, as he called himself, called at Mrs. Topp's residence and said he was a student, and wanted to engage a room for himself and his brother. He was shown a room which satisfied him, at $10 a month. Then, saying he always paid cash in advance, he tendered a check for $16, bearing the signature of the Spaulding Tool Co. and drawn on the State bank.

Mrs. Topp obligingly paid him the $6 difference between the face of the check and the price of a month's room rent, and has not seen him since. When she went to cash the check a few hours later she found that it was worthless.

The same game was worked on Milwaukee boarding houses a day or two ago, evidently by the same man.

BALLOON ON FIRE AT MADISON FAIR

Madison, Wis., Sept. 27.—(Special) An attempted balloon ascension at the Dane county fair yesterday afternoon resulted in disaster to the balloon, and a narrow escape for the aeronaut, Harry Larrange. As the big bag started to rise in a strong wind, it was blown over the furnace which supplied the hot air, and took fire. Larrange went up about 50 feet before he cut the parachute loose and landed safely.

The fair is the most successful in point of attendance which has been held in many years, the crowd yesterday numbering about 11,000. The exhibits are below the average, owing to the drought, but the races, midway shows and a varied assortment of fakirs, keep the crowds entertained.

GREAT INTEREST IN YACHT RACE

Triumph of Yesterday Has Made the Columbia a Decided Favorite

THE FASTEST BOAT

The News From County Towns.

MILTON.

THE GAZETTE AGENCY.
W. W. CLARK, Manager.

Milton, Sept. 27.—The funeral of the late Mrs. James Vincent took place Thursday afternoon at the house and but a few of those who desired to be present were able to secure admission. The services were conducted by Rev. S. G. Huey of Rock Prairie, assisted by Rev. T. W. North, pastor of the M. E. church. Decedent graduated from Milton college in the class of '79 and was afterward principal of the public school in this village. She was an efficient worker in the Methodist church and always ready to serve the community in every capacity that circumstances required, therefore will be greatly missed in religious and social circles.

The college football season opened here Wednesday with a game between Whitewater Normal and Milton college. The Normal team averaged fifteen pounds the heavier, and were older players, but in spite of these advantages succeeded in scoring but once. In the first half, Milton kicked off and held Whitewater for downs, forcing them to punt. Milton advanced the ball to center, losing it on downs. Whitewater then forced the ball down the field and pushed it over the line, using mostly mass plays on left tackle, which was the weak spot in the Milton line. Whitewater kicked goal. Score, Whitewater, 6; Milton, 0. In the second half Whitewater got the ball on a fumble, but was held for downs. The college boys met a like fate, and the ball hung in Milton's territory till time was called. Score, Whitewater, 6; Milton, 0. Capt. Platts said after the game, "We were weak on our left side. If place had been in his position—left half—thus allowing Rodgers to play left tackle, we would have scored at least once. We are also weak on defense." Milton lined up as follows: Blais, r e; Davis, r t; Stewart, r g; Ingles, c; Coon, l g; Slagley, l t; Hurley, l e; Hutchins, q b; Whitford, r h b; Rodgers, l h b; Platts, capt., f. b.

Mr. Charles Cronk of Madison was the guest of Brodhead friends the fore part of the week.

Miss Grace Norcraft returned on Monday from a visit of several days with Monroe friends.

Mrs. J. T. Snyder of Janesville spent a part of last week in Brodhead, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Armeta Gardner.

Last Sunday evening Master Clinton Pierce had the misfortune to fracture both bones of his left wrist by an accidental fall. It seems the family had been driving and upon returning to the barn Clinton attempted to jump upon a swinging partition between two stalls, when he lost his footing, with the above result.

SHOPIERE.

Shopiere, Sept. 26.—Farmers are about through cutting corn and tobacco. The crop is better than people thought it could be with such dry weather.

Mrs. Sholts from New York state, while visiting in this place had the misfortune to fall and sprain her ankle. She is at Frank Steadwell's at present.

Will Knipsheld and wife are moving up on Ed Case's farm. Mr. Barker is moving in the Shimmell house, on the corner. Mr. Hawley is fixing his house for Will Harris and Henry Case and family will soon move across the street.

C. W. Shimmell and wife are visiting relatives in Chicago this week. Charley Bell and family are getting ready to move to Seattle, Wash.

The Gower boy is getting better slowly.

Some of our farmers are working out their road tax, hauling gravel on the road.

Miss Ida Sweet came home from the Beloit hospital on Monday and is improving slowly.

TOWN OF JANESVILLE.

The past few days here have been bright and sunny and greatly enjoyed by all.

The tobacco is all in the shed. Those who raised sweet corn for the canning factory finished hauling last week.

Most everyone is busy cutting corn for feed.

Illness are at work on the Thomas Little farm.

Some of our people attended the McKinley services at the opera house last Thursday afternoon. The rain in the evening prevented some from going to the Congregational church where the union church service was held.

The auction on the A. D. Williams farm on Wednesday afternoon called out quite a crowd.

Miss Julia Maxfield is reported on the sick list.

Roy and Lester Church are attending church in the city.

J. J. Duffy was a caller in these parts last Sunday.

BAPTIST CHURCH DAY CELEBRATION

One of the Most Enjoyable Gatherings in the History of the Church Last Evening.

About three hundred joined in the church day celebration at the Baptist church last evening. It was one of the most enjoyable gatherings in the history of the church. The guests assembled in the church parlors which had been tastefully decorated with the Christian Endeavor colors, white and purple. The guests entered the parlors from the main auditorium of the church. The banquet had been spread on many small tables and was all that anyone could desire. After the banquet was finished the balance of the evening was spent in social entertainment. The Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, presided as toast master. He made a few remarks on the day and the assemblage before opening the program. The first number falling to Mrs. Louise Bowerman, the others following in order as given below:

Who's Who?..... The Absentees
"Eye lights eye in good friendship."
Ye Clarke's Books..... Mr. J. T. Fitchett
"What's writ is writ."
Our Treasury..... Mr. W. E. Clinton
"Money alone is not sufficient, you must have some of it."
Achievements..... Mrs. Elizabeth Butler
"Something attempted, something done."
Our Officers..... Mr. A. C. Campbell
"Man in great place are thrice servants."
Seed Plots..... Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy
"The ideal man must first have a good childhood."
Men and the Church..... Mr. Ralph Grove
"Will there be sufficient men in heaven to sing bass?"
Woman's Work..... W. H. Ross
"We can do nothing with her and we can do nothing without her."
Reading..... Miss Irma Shoemaker
A Sister's Diary..... Miss Elizabeth Palmer
The brief and abstract chronicles of the time.
The Other Fellows..... Mr. J. C. Kline
"Over the garden wall."
Old World and New..... Judge B. F. Dunwiddie
"There's no place like home."
Within the Gates..... Mrs. Lee Seers
Fare ever
There as here."
"The Land of the Living," Solo..... Miss Cora Anerson
The responses were given in a manner highly pleasing to the audience and in a way that showed that each one had carefully prepared the subject handled by them, and liberal applause was given them by the assembled guests. Everything went off smoothly. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasures of the evening. It will long be remembered as one of the pleasant events in the history of the church.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed, it has a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

which we devote to our carpet department is equal to five ordinary stores, 100 feet in length. Carpets made and laid on short notice.

Oriental Rugs

The real value of Oriental Rugs is shown by the length of time they wear. You can save much money by buying them here. Large city stores do not pretend to mark them at such small profits. Our assortment is very large and the rugs come from New York's leading importers. Wise people are buying Oriental Rugs at home now, they are beginning to realize that it costs much to run a city store and the exorbitant prices put on Oriental Rugs and other novelties go a good ways toward paying big rents, etc.

ALL PURE

The proper place to purchase pure liquors is from the man who makes a specialty of them. You buy your coal from the coal dealer because you know that he knows all about coal.—The same reasoning should apply to your whiskey, wines, beer, etc. Impure liquor for family or medicinal purposes is worse than none at all.

We wholesale and retail every kind of good liquor.

ROCK CO. LAND IS IN GREAT DEMAND

OVER $130,000 WORTH CHANGES
HANDS IN ONE MONTH.

Property Sales Have Been Unusually Active the Last Few Months—The Greatest Activity in September and August Seems to Have Been in Beloit—The Detailed List.

Over one hundred and thirty thousand dollars worth of real estate changed hands in Rock county between August 22 and September 19. During that period fifty-eight transfers were recorded in the office of the register of deeds. The largest deal amounted to $12,750 and the smallest to $100.

Property sales have been unusually active during the last few months, on account of people with money to loan being unable to get investments that will pay them a fair rate of interest. Rather than have their money lie idle they invest it in first class real estate. There is but very little property in Rock county but what is a safe investment if purchased right.

The greatest activity during this period seems to have been in Beloit. Sixteen transfers are credited to that city. Janesville is a good second with ten, the balance being divided between Edgerton, Clinton, Milton and the surrounding farming country.

The largest sale amounting to $12,750 was made by Daniel W. Woodard and others to George J. Mayer of 217 acres in section 26, town of Bradford, at an average price of nearly $59 per acre. Luther W. Perkins sold to W. E. Perkins, 120 acres in the town of Newark for $7,200 or an average of $60 an acre.

Rock county really is always in good demand. A person owning a good piece of land has no trouble in getting a good price for it.

THE ONE MILL MICROBE.
There is a feverish interest in the one mill tax, and a feeling of relief comes to the people. In the knowledge of the fact that the fair name of the nation is not tarnished by mob law violence.

The wise injunction of Judge E. Lewis, contained in his address to the Czoizgosz jury, declaring that mob law was a greater menace to public safety than anarchy, is emphasized by the following statement from Booker T. Washington, of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial school in Alabama. Mr. Washington is competent to talk on this subject, for he lives in a section of the country where mob law is not uncommon, and he has studied its dire effects upon public morals, discovering that it blunts the finer sensibilities, while encouraging high handed lawlessness. He says:

"In all sincerity, I want to ask is Czoizgosz alone guilty? Has not the entire nation had a part in this greatest crime of the century? What is anarchy, but a defiance of law, and has not the nation reaped what it has been sowing? According to records 2,516 persons have been lynched in the United States during the past sixteen years. There are or have been engaged in this anarchy of lynching nearly 125,000 persons.

"If William McKinley, as he was offering up his life in behalf of the nation, could be brave enough, thoughtful and patriotic enough to request that his assassin be fairly and honestly tried and punished, surely we can afford to heed the lesson."

This thought endorsed so strongly by conservative public sentiment is finding a lodgment in the hearts of the people, and the moral tone of the nation is being elevated, in every community.

The results will be wholesome, not only in restraining this sort of lawlessness, but the courts of the land will realize that new obligations and more rigid enforcement of law is demanded at their hands.

In an inland city in Iowa a few years ago, thirteen murders were committed in less than a year. It seemed impossible to convict in the courts and when patience had lost forbearance, the people became so outraged that they took the last victim from the court room and hanged him to a lamp post in the court house park.

It is well to remember in this era of reform so suddenly inaugurated, and at such great cost, that personal responsibility rests not only with the people, but also with the courts of justice.

The country is not destitute of law. Our statute books are loaded, and every legislature contributes freely to the list.

What the country needs is rigid enforcement of the laws we have. When this is done there will be little cause for complaint. In the meantime the people are impressed with the duties of American citizenship as never before, and out of the furnace of sorrow and humiliation will come a nation redeemed from bondage in many forms, and worse than slavery.

The mob creed will be short and decisive. Observe law, both written and unwritten, and obey it.

JUDGE H. A. PATTERSON.

In the death of Judge H. A. Patterson the city has lost one of its most highly honored and respected citizens. During his active life, which covered a long period of years, he enjoyed the confidence of the entire community, and when failing health made it necessary for him to lead a more quiet life, he carried with it the same courteous, genial spirit, that had long since won for him a place in the hearts of the people.

Thoroughly well informed and keenly alive to the best interests of the city, as well as the state, he came to the end of the journey, enfeebled in body, but with a mind that was active, and a heart filled with generous impulses. His physical disability, that deprived him of ready speech was a great annoyance to him, and he would frequently say, if he could talk as well as he could think, that he would be all right. His life is closely identified with the city, and his influence, which was always helpful, will be followed by a wholesome impress.

All that thoughtful, loving care can do is being done for Mrs. McKinley to comfort her in her great sorrow. She shares in the profound sympathy of the nation as well, and her immediate friends entertain the belief that she will endure the shock, that fell with such blighting force upon this frail little woman who was so dependent upon the constant ministrations of the great man whom the country knew as president, but who was to her the "Major" and loving companion.

"The North Star," posing as the organ of reform, at Marinette, says that "if the anarchists would only practice upon the coal trusts instead of upon presidents it might help to prove that good can come out of evil." That's populistic reform with a vengeance. That sort of rot would damn a nation beyond recovery. The foundation of anarchy is class hatred, and any man or journal that incites it, is under the red flag banner. The Star should confine itself to state politics.

N. B. Treat of Monroe has been elevated to the office of vice-president of the board of control, being in the line of apostolic succession. This promotion does not affect his political standing, either at home or abroad. He is neither a half-breed nor stow-away, but just a plain two per cent. off for cash agent of the state. Some men's ambitions are easily satisfied.

It has always been a cause for regret that the cotton mills company, could not see their way clear to resume business. The buildings and water power are desirable for many lines of manufacturing, and with the old machinery disposed of, the property should find a ready purchaser. Janesville is one of the best shipping centers in the west, and it has no equal as a place of residence.

Amos P. Wilder of the Madison Journal is acting as a peace emissary for the governor in the northern part of the state. Nils P. Haugen does not accompany him and his authority is questioned. The governor's friends do not appear to be contributing very largely to his convalescence.

Ex-President Grover Cleveland's tribute to President McKinley, expressed honest appreciation and genuine sorrow. Mr. Cleveland has the faculty of saying something when he talks.

Milwaukee is taking a day off to sneeze. A hay fever epidemic has struck the city, and the favorite beverage is powerless to check it.

La Crosse is patting herself on the back over the best fair the county ever enjoyed. State aid did not contribute.

General Funston has lost his appendix, but he retains his reputation, and is not incapacitated for leadership.

PRESS COMMENT.

Racine Journal: Socialists may not all be anarchists, but all anarchists are socialists. Socialism tends to anarchism.

Milwaukee Journal: It is said that Gov. La Follette will not agree to harmony plans. That is dead wrong. He is trying to establish harmony. In the same way that the Indian buried the hatchet.

Whitewater Gazette: It is a matter of much regret that Governor La Follette is ill. His political opponents are not by any means his personal enemies and all the people of the state wish earnestly for his early recovery.

Merrill Advocate: If President Roosevelt succeeds in carrying out the late President McKinley's policy—and we have no doubts on that score—he will succeed himself to the presidency in 1904. We believe that Roosevelt will make a good president.

Watertown Times: Lieutenant Governor Stone is not bothering himself much about his chances of being called to Madison to assume the reins of government. He has gone into the wilds of Wisconsin for a ten days' hunt near Minocqua Lake.

La Crosse Republican-Leader: Secretary of State Froelich was happily surprised to learn that La Crosse republicans are not going around with razors up their sleeves as he had been led to believe from reading warm air newspaper notions.

Ashland Press: The rain (reign) of prosperity falls upon the unjust and the just, upon republican and democrat, upon populist and socialist, and even upon the Ishmaelite of humanity, the anarchist. If any man will work it is hard for him to escape the consequences of republican prosperity.

Chippewa Falls Independent: It is understood that the La Follette faction of the republican party in this section has been in secret session during the week and arranged to perfect an organization. Mr. Alex. Johnson, deputy game warden, and as Hon. John Thomas expresses it, the ablest politician in this section, will map out the plans of organization. A real live campaign will be carried on in every school district in the county the coming winter.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE STREET.

There is no such thing as clean mud.

Pride probably goeth before a fall because it would be impossible to loaf along behind.

Women are always ready to defend their sex collectively and to condemn it individually.

The man who rides himself on self-control never heard a mouse trap shut in the stilly watches of the night.

People who do not believe that men roll scandal should sit down among a group of politicians while one of them discusses a fellow who is not there.

The person with fads would not be so much of a bore if he would not inflict them on common people, but just keep them to try on others similarly afflicted.—Milwaukee Journal.

GLOBE SIGHTS.

Love, though blind, never stumbles while it lasts.

A man never knows until after he is married how many things there are which it is improper for a married man to do.

When a man pays a compliment to a woman he usually whispers it, and wretch would have been mobbed out by almost every community in the land, upholds the law, and a feeling of relief comes to the people. In the knowledge of the fact that the fair name of the nation is not tarnished by mob law violence.

The wise injunction of Judge E. Lewis, contained in his address to the Czoizgosz jury, declaring that mob law was a greater menace to public safety than anarchy, is emphasized by the following statement from Booker T. Washington, of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial school in Alabama. Mr. Washington is competent to talk on this subject, for he lives in a section of the country where mob law is not uncommon, and he has studied its dire effects upon public morals, discovering that it blunts the finer sensibilities, while encouraging high handed lawlessness. He says:

"In all sincerity, I want to ask is Czoizgosz alone guilty? Has not the entire nation had a part in this greatest crime of the century? What is anarchy, but a defiance of law, and has not the nation reaped what it has been sowing? According to records 2,516 persons have been lynched in the United States during the past sixteen years. There are or have been engaged in this anarchy of lynching nearly 125,000 persons.

"If William McKinley, as he was offering up his life in behalf of the nation, could be brave enough, thoughtful and patriotic enough to request that his assassin be fairly and honestly tried and punished, surely we can afford to heed the lesson."

This thought endorsed so strongly by conservative public sentiment is finding a lodgment in the hearts of the people, and the moral tone of the nation is being elevated, in every community.

The results will be wholesome, not only in restraining this sort of lawlessness, but the courts of the land will realize that new obligations and more rigid enforcement of law is demanded at their hands.

In an inland city in Iowa a few years ago, thirteen murders were committed in less than a year. It seemed impossible to convict in the courts and when patience had lost forbearance, the people became so outraged that they took the last victim from the court room and hanged him to a lamp post in the court house park.

It is well to remember in this era of reform so suddenly inaugurated, and at such great cost, that personal responsibility rests not only with the people, but also with the courts of justice.

The country is not destitute of law. Our statute books are loaded, and every legislature contributes freely to the list.

What the country needs is rigid enforcement of the laws we have. When this is done there will be little cause for complaint. In the meantime the people are impressed with the duties of American citizenship as never before, and out of the furnace of sorrow and humiliation will come a nation redeemed from bondage in many forms, and worse than slavery.

The mob creed will be short and decisive. Observe law, both written and unwritten, and obey it.

JUDGE H. A. PATTERSON.

In the death of Judge H. A. Patterson the city has lost one of its most highly honored and respected citizens. During his active life, which covered a long period of years, he enjoyed the confidence of the entire community, and when failing health made it necessary for him to lead a more quiet life, he carried with it the same courteous, genial spirit, that had long since won for him a place in the hearts of the people.

Thoroughly well informed and keenly alive to the best interests of the city, as well as the state, he came to the end of the journey, enfeebled in body, but with a mind that was active, and a heart filled with generous impulses. His physical disability, that deprived him of ready speech was a great annoyance to him, and he would frequently say, if he could talk as well as he could think, that he would be all right. His life is closely identified with the city, and his influence, which was always helpful, will be followed by a wholesome impress.

All that thoughtful, loving care can do is being done for Mrs. McKinley to comfort her in her great sorrow. She shares in the profound sympathy of the nation as well, and her immediate friends entertain the belief that she will endure the shock, that fell with such blighting force upon this frail little woman who was so dependent upon the constant ministrations of the great man whom the country knew as president, but who was to her the "Major" and loving companion.

"The North Star," posing as the organ of reform, at Marinette, says that "if the anarchists would only practice upon the coal trusts instead of upon presidents it might help to prove that good can come out of evil." That's populistic reform with a vengeance. That sort of rot would damn a nation beyond recovery. The foundation of anarchy is class hatred, and any man or journal that incites it, is under the red flag banner. The Star should confine itself to state politics.

N. B. Treat of Monroe has been elevated to the office of vice-president of the board of control, being in the line of apostolic succession. This promotion does not affect his political standing, either at home or abroad. He is neither a half-breed nor stow-away, but just a plain two per cent. off for cash agent of the state. Some men's ambitions are easily satisfied.

It has always been a cause for regret that the cotton mills company, could not see their way clear to resume business. The buildings and water power are desirable for many lines of manufacturing, and with the old machinery disposed of, the property should find a ready purchaser. Janesville is one of the best shipping centers in the west, and it has no equal as a place of residence.

Amos P. Wilder of the Madison Journal is acting as a peace emissary for the governor in the northern part of the state. Nils P. Haugen does not accompany him and his authority is questioned. The governor's friends do not appear to be contributing very largely to his convalescence.

Ex-President Grover Cleveland's tribute to President McKinley, expressed honest appreciation and genuine sorrow. Mr. Cleveland has the faculty of saying something when he talks.

Milwaukee is taking a day off to sneeze. A hay fever epidemic has struck the city, and the favorite beverage is powerless to check it.

La Crosse is patting herself on the back over the best fair the county ever enjoyed. State aid did not contribute.

General Funston has lost his appendix, but he retains his reputation, and is not incapacitated for leadership.

PRESS COMMENT.

Racine Journal: Socialists may not all be anarchists, but all anarchists are socialists. Socialism tends to anarchism.

Milwaukee Journal: It is said that Gov. La Follette will not agree to harmony plans. That is dead wrong. He is trying to establish harmony. In the same way that the Indian buried the hatchet.

Whitewater Gazette: It is a matter of much regret that Governor La Follette is ill. His political opponents are not by any means his personal enemies and all the people of the state wish earnestly for his early recovery.

Merrill Advocate: If President Roosevelt succeeds in carrying out the late President McKinley's policy—and we have no doubts on that score—he will succeed himself to the presidency in 1904. We believe that Roosevelt will make a good president.

Watertown Times: Lieutenant Governor Stone is not bothering himself much about his chances of being called to Madison to assume the reins of government. He has gone into the wilds of Wisconsin for a ten days' hunt near Minocqua Lake.

La Crosse Republican-Leader: Secretary of State Froelich was happily surprised to learn that La Crosse republicans are not going around with razors up their sleeves as he had been led to believe from reading warm air newspaper notions.

Ashland Press: The rain (reign) of prosperity falls upon the unjust and the just, upon republican and democrat, upon populist and socialist, and even upon the Ishmaelite of humanity, the anarchist. If any man will work it is hard for him to escape the consequences of republican prosperity.

Chippewa Falls Independent: It is understood that the La Follette faction of the republican party in this section has been in secret session during the week and arranged to perfect an organization. Mr. Alex. Johnson, deputy game warden, and as Hon. John Thomas expresses it, the ablest politician in this section, will map out the plans of organization. A real live campaign will be carried on in every school district in the county the coming winter.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE STREET.

There is no such thing as clean mud.

Pride probably goeth before a fall because it would be impossible to loaf along behind.

Women are always ready to defend their sex collectively and to condemn it individually.

The man who rides himself on self-control never heard a mouse trap shut in the stilly watches of the night.

People who do not believe that men roll scandal should sit down among a group of politicians while one of them discusses a fellow who is not there.

The person with fads would not be so much of a bore if he would not inflict them on common people, but just keep them to try on others similarly afflicted.—Milwaukee Journal.

No man ever handled his money when alive to the satisfaction of his kin, or ever left a will which was suitable to all relatives.

Don't give hints. Remember that before a man will loan money he has to be asked for it boldly and prefers good security to good hints.

Every married woman begins the story of her troubles by relating that she was married when very young to a man much older than herself.

Girls are indulging. In so many healthful sports of late that a dog belonging to a girl has almost as good a time as if he belonged to a boy.—Atchison Globe.

RAILROAD PARTY AT FETHERS HOUSE

Trip On the Fast-town and Fetherword
Railway Was Enjoyed By Many Guests Last Evening.

Several days ago a number of the prominent travelers of this city received an invitation to make an extended tour of the United States on the "Fasttown and Fetherword railroad" as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ogden H. Fethers. The invitations stated that the express train would leave the residence of Ogden H. Fethers, Thursday evening, September 26th at 7:30 o'clock.

About twenty-five guests responded to the invitations prepared to take a long journey. The travelers were met at the Fethers station by Conductor Fethers in full uniform and shown to their seats in the Pullman sleepers in the spacious parlors of the station.

It was eight o'clock before all of the travelers arrived and were comfortably seated in the cars, and the candy butcher began to get in his work. All kinds of travelers usually to be found on a first-class excursion were discovered by Conductor Fethers when he started on his round of ticket taking.

An Englishman and his wife with their numerous bags, rugs and a large tin foot-bath took up more room than was allotted them and made to pay extra fare. The minister and his wife were also present. The usual bride and groom created merriment for the balance of the passengers. The High Roller opera company were also present and furnished entertainment at the long stops. The two little maidens from school and the small boy kept the balance of the passengers in trouble the most of the time.

Refreshments were served to the travelers at a specially constructed lunch counter where the bill of fare and prices were wonderful to behold. The book agent also had for sale a number of very select books and periodicals with titles especially prepared for the occasion. Most of the authors being present on the train.

Exceedingly fast time was made by the excursion train which left Fethers station, Janesville at 8 p. m. and after visiting about twenty prominent cities of the United States landed at Baton Rouge, La., where the travelers disbanded.

One of the pleasant features of the trip was guessing the names of the station at which the excursionists stopped. Each guest was presented with a printed slip on which the rules and regulations of the train and twenty sentences indicating the name of some city. The guests were requested to write their guesses on the slips and the one getting the largest number of correct answers received the prize, a handsome silver traveler's cup. Three of the ladies tied and the cup was won by Mrs. Victor P. Richardson in the drawing.

It was a novel entertainment and the first of its kind ever given in the city and all of the guests were highly pleased with their trip and hope they may have the pleasure of taking another at some time in the future.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. G. C. FRITZ

She Had Been Ailing Some Time,
with Asthma—Was a Woman
Who Had Many Friends.

Mrs. G. C. Fritz, fifty-six years of age and for a number of years a resident of this city passed away very suddenly shortly after twelve o'clock last night at her home on North Franklin street, from a complication of asthma and lung troubles. She had been ailing for some time with asthma, but no serious results were anticipated. She felt badly last evening and Dr. Charles Clark, a friend of the family, who was at the home, prepared some medicine to relieve her of the pain that was troubling her. She retired shortly afterwards feeling very much relieved. During the night Mr. Fritz heard her breathing in a strange manner and on striking a light found that she was unconscious. She passed away in a short time without recovering consciousness.

Mrs. Fritz was a native of Frankfurt, Germany and resided in Monroe when she and Mr. Fritz were married. She was a woman who had many friends and was always pleasant and agreeable. Mr. Fritz feels his great loss very keenly and has the sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made but the remains will probably be taken to Monroe for interment.

Funeral of Mrs. M. Dulin.
The funeral of the late Mrs. Michael Dulin was held this morning at 9 o'clock from the home and at 9:30 from St. Patrick's church. Rev. J. J. Collins officiated at the services and paid a touching tribute to the deceased. A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the home and church to bid a last farewell to the deceased. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful and were a slight token of the esteem felt for the deceased by the donors. The interment was at Mount Olivet cemetery. The pall bearers were William Welch, Dudley Connors, Richard Barry, Michael McIlcahey, Peter Dolan and George Viney.

To Be Buried in California.

Word was received in Janesville this morning that the remains of William E. Helms, accidentally killed in a railway accident, would be buried in California, where he died. He was forty-five years of age, and belonged to Burabododge of Railway Trainmen.

Funeral of H. A. Patterson.
The funeral services over the remains of the late Henry A. Patterson will be held from his residence on Milton avenue on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

GRADING OF THE COUNTRY SCHOOLS

More Than 250 Applications to the State Superintendent Under the New School Law.

Supt. L. D. Harvey, speaking about the school outlook in the state, at Milwaukee yesterday said:

"We of the superintendent's office, have been devoting the major part of our time for several weeks to the grading of the county schools under the law passed by the legislature last winter."

"We have more than 250 applications for organization under the new law, and it is a part of our duty to prepare a course of study, to make the schools as nearly uniform as possible. Some of the schools have been loosely graded and some have not been graded at all, but have been conducted as mixed schools."

"The law provides for two classes of schools—the first and the second. The former consists of schools with three or more departments, and the latter of those with two departments. The first class receive $300 from the state, and the second $100. The most pleasing thing about the work is the readiness of the school boards in the various parts of the state to aid us in the work of providing the necessary equipment and supplies and to improve the school buildings where necessary."

BIG DEMAND FOR GOOD BEEF STEERS

Prices for Good Butchers' Stock Are Most Satisfactory—Special Duty of the Farmers.

"Cattle, strong and active—a hungry demand for all good beef steers; common and medium cows, dull and slow." This is a text which, with the context with present conditions, speaks volumes, and which every breeder, feeder and cattleman throughout the country should ponder over and keep fresh in mind. It is a text which compels their best friends to remind them again and again that there is the most room at the top, and that along that line in particular lies their main prospect for success.

When the best finished cattle bring $6.50 and logs reach $7, with prospects for both going higher, there is surely room for considerable hard thinking over the wide margin between the prices paid for prime beasts and that (reluctantly paid for inferior "stuff."

Let every man reason as he will, there can be no blinking of the fact that well-bred stock is the sheet anchor of agricultural success, and that genuine progress can only be made along that line, excepting where here and there some accomplished specialist makes a success of something which he specially understands and works out with scientific accuracy.

The broader fields of agriculture, however, cannot be successfully operated without the aid of live stock. Mother earth should always "receive" back from the home-made fertilizer, which the cow and the sow produce, as much or possibly a little more strength than she gives away in the process of producing crops of corn, wheat and other varieties of general supplies which she yields annually for our benefit.

"A hungry demand for all good beef steers," finds many farmers and feeders this year in a sort of a quandary. They know not how to act. There remains the consolation, however, that prices for good butcher stock are most satisfactory. Through this special source some of the farmers and cattlemen who are lagging behind through a failure in appreciating the value of improved blood, as a factor in stock breeding and feeding, may become convinced that they are in error, and, whether or not, will discover, at their own expense, that high priced feed and a class of cattle that do not respond to feed, so as to finish right and bring top prices, do not harmonize well from a financial standpoint. If our agriculturalists desire to attain success they must blend their whole course and bend their entire energies to one continuous line of improved methods of cultivation of the soil—breeding and feeding of live stock; their farms must yield abundant crops and their live stock must be of such quality that they will freely respond to past and feed.

A. P. Burnham left for Chicago this morning on the 10:10 train.

D. W. Watt of this city was one of the judges at the Beloit races yesterday.

Miss Edna Scofield is visiting friends in Oak Park, Ill., for a few days.

Miss Mayme Scanlan returned home last night from a six weeks' visit to Chicago.

Mrs. B. F. Dunwiddle left this morning on a visit with relatives at Monroe.

Emery Dunbar of Footville was in the city today looking over the stock market.

H. D. Scall, J. M. Hollister and M. T. Atkins of Beloit were in the city today on business.

Mrs. D. N. Hatfield of Pearl street is entertaining her nephew J. H. Robinson of Wahashua, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Church and son Ralph are the guests of Mrs. Church's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Worthington.

Rev. W. A. Goebel, Charles Roelling and Contractor Tappendorf went to Milwaukee yesterday on business connected with the new St. Mar. church.

M. Hall, a prosperous attorney of Omaha, Nebraska, was in the city this morning on his way to Madison. He graduated from the Wisconsin university law school at the same time as did Judge C. L. Fiffeld.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Brand went to Hudson, Wis., last evening on the 9:20 train. Mr. Brand, who has been suffering from nervous prostration for seventeen months, has lately had a relapse and he will enter the Hudson sanitarium for a few weeks of rest and treatment. Mrs. Brand will return home Sunday.

FOUND OWNER OF THE OTHER RIFLE

Chief Hogan learned this morning that one of the rifles found by him in the possession of Ray Marsden, was taken from George Crossman's second store, and had been missing for some time. He was unable to locate the gun and had never said anything about it to Chief Hogan. He identified his property when it was shown to him by Chief Hogan. He said the back window to his shop had been open and entrance to the store was gained in this manner.

It has also developed by a little skillful questioning that young Marsden was responsible for a number of the false alarms of fire turned in from the different boxes in the Fourth ward. The young man seemed to take especial delight in doing things that were liable to get him into trouble. He was foxy enough to commit all his crimes without a confederate who was liable to squeal on him. It now looks as if he was in for a term at the Industrial School for Boys.

NEW BOWLING ALLEY

The Alleys in the Y. M. C. A. Building are in Operation—They are Made of the Best Material.

The new bowling alleys at the Y. M. C. A. building are in operation. They are made of the best material, full regulation, with all modern equipment. The manager of the Blake-Callender Co. of Chicago, expert on bowling alleys was here and said they were the best laid alleys he had ever seen. The foundation is of solid cement and the material of the first quality maple ends with full pine centers, leveled and polished to a perfect finish. The location of these bowling alleys are ideal, having access to the gymnasium and baths so that all bowlers can enjoy an indoor ball game, basket ball and the bathing as they choose.

HIS BRAVADO ALL GONE

McKinley's Assassin Hears His Doom in Terror.

SPEAKS IN FAINT WHISPERS.

The Condemned Man Seems Incapable of Thought—His Tongue Is Nearly
Paralyzed—To Die in Week Beginning
October 28.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 27.—The last act of legal procedure in the trial of Leon F. Czolgosz was more sensational than the other stages, because of the mental collapse of the assassin in the hour his doom was pronounced. He was sentenced to death in the electric chair during the week beginning Oct. 28.

The assassin was led into the court room at 1:55 o'clock, manacled to Detectives Geary and Solomon. His appearance was not calculated to encourage anarchists to emulate his untimely crime. He was sallow, unkempt, and shaken mentally. Great beads of cold perspiration gathered in his face, and the detectives flinched when their hands came in contact with his clammy flesh. He looked neither to the right nor the left as he slouched into the room and dropped heavily into his seat. He assumes the pose which had characterized his every appearance in court—sitting with his head slightly bowed and his hands nervously twitching on his knees. He was professing a bravado, but his agitation was noticeable to every one in the room. The vacant stare was gone from his eyes and was succeeded by a nameless terror, which clouded his brain until it all but refused to act. He was horribly afraid. Court was opened with the usual formality, and Czolgosz was sworn. The answer to the conventional questions put by the district attorney were secured with great difficulty.

Seems Incapable of Thought.
The murderer seemed incapable of thought. The simple question of his age had to be repeated to him three times before he could mumble an answer. His tongue was all but paralyzed. He spoke in faint whispers, hardly audible to the man standing at his side.

He constantly mopped the cold perspiration from his face. There was no tremor in his voice. His terror was beyond that evidence of nervousness. His facial muscles were under full control. When given opportunity to make a statement he mumbled that he had no accomplices. It was with superhuman effort that he managed to make his explanation exculpating all others from complicity, but he had to perform the last instruction of his anarchist preceptors.

Sentence Is Pronounced.
The sentence of the court was solemnly pronounced and the assassin was led out of the court room through the "tunnel of sobs" to the jail. The arrangements to remove the assassin to Auburn prison, where he will be electrocuted, were well planned, and successfully carried out. At 9:45 o'clock a special car was backed to a point northwest of the Terrace station and but a few rods distant from the jail. There was no crowd around to interfere with the fourteen deputies who hustled him out of the jail and into the coach. The car was then attached to a regular train on the Central, due to arrive at Auburn at 2:12 a. m. Just before the train pulled out Czolgosz was seen smoking a cigar. In a seat with the prisoner was Jaffer Mitchell, and in the opposite seat, facing them, were the keeper of the penitentiary and Deputy Sheriff Hugh Sloan, the oldest and most experienced deputy sheriff in the county. The other guards were seated in front and back of him and on the other side of the car directly opposite his seat. These precautions were taken because the authorities received word from some source that the sheriff might encounter considerable difficulty in getting the prisoner to Auburn. Just what sort of trouble was feared could not be learned, but great care was taken that no advance news of the departure of the train was telegraphed along the line.

Czolgosz Is Asked for His Statement.
When Czolgosz was asked if he had any reason to give why sentence should not be pronounced against him, he did not reply, and Justice White, addressing the prisoner, said:

"In that behalf, what you have a right to say relates explicitly to the subject in hand here at this time, and which the law provides, why sentence should not now be pronounced against you, and is defined by the statute. The first is that you may claim that you are insane. The next is that you have good cause to offer either in pronouncement against you, or for a new trial. Those are the grounds specified by the statute in which you have a right to speak at this time, and you are at perfect liberty to do as you wish."

The prisoner replied:
"I have nothing to say about that."
The court said: "Are you ready?"
Mr. Penney replied: "Yes."
"Have you anything to say?" asked Justice White.

"Yes," replied the prisoner.
"I think he should be permitted to make a statement in exculpation of his act. If the court please," said Judge Titus.

The court replied: "That will depend upon what his statement is."
Justice White then said: "Have you (speaking to Judge Titus) anything to say in behalf of the prisoner at this time?"

"I have nothing to say within the definition of what your Honor has said," replied the attorney, "but it seems to me, in order that the innocent should not suffer by this defendant's crime, the court should permit him to exculpate at least his father, brother, and sisters."

From the court: "Certainly, if that is the object of any statement he wishes to make, proceed."

To this the prisoner said: "There was no one else but me. No one told me to do it, and no one paid me to do it."

Judge Titus repeated it as follows: "Owing to the prisoner's feeble voice, he says no one had anything to do with the commission of the crime but himself; that his father and mother and no one else had anything to do with or knew anything about it."

The prisoner continued: "I was not told anything about that crime, and I never thought anything about murder until a couple of days before I committed the crime."

Judge Titus again repeated as follows: "He never told any one about the crime and never intended to commit it until a couple of days before its commission."

DECLARES FOR SOUTH.

President Will Follow McKinley's Policy.

Washington, Sept. 27.—"I will support President McKinley's political policy so far as it relates to the south, tooth and nail. On this I have made up my mind absolutely and unequivocally. The late president's course regarding the south had my hearty cooperation and approbation, and you can say to your friends who are interested in developing and carrying out that policy that I will stand by them." These are President Roosevelt's words to Senator Pritchard of North Carolina during a conference regarding the president's policy toward the south.

Final Burial of Lincoln.
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 27.—The body of Abraham Lincoln was given final burial beneath the national Lincoln monument in Oak Ridge cemetery. Before the casket was lowered into the body of concrete which is to hold it for all time it was opened and a small assemblage of officials and invited guests gazed upon the shrunken features of the nation's first martyr president. The sight was gruesome and as soon as the identification had been completed the casket was again sealed and put in its concrete bed.

Missing Pastor Is Found.
Baraboo, Wis., Sept. 27.—Rev. E. W. Mueller, pastor of the First Methodist church, who mysteriously disappeared last Tuesday, has been located at La Crosse, his former home. He does not give any explanation regarding his sudden departure and says it is "no body's business but his own." This declaration, however, does not seem to satisfy his flock here.

Convict's Escape Foiled.
Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 27.—William Rhea, a prisoner at the penitentiary under sentence of death for the murder of Herman Zahn, a saloon-keeper at Syner, Dodge county, last January during a hold-up, nearly succeeded in sawing his way to freedom from his cell. When discovered he had sawed through two bars and was nearly through the third.

Millionaire's Daughter Weds.
Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 27.—Dr. A. C. Magruder of Cripple Creek and Miss Ella Winifred Carlton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Carlton, formerly of Warren, Ill., were married here. The reception was an elaborate society event, 200 guests being present. The Carltons are millionaires mine owners and society leaders.

Onits A Noble Anarchist.
Rome, Sept. 27.—The Russian prince Makachidze and wife had been arrested as anarchists and will be conducted to the frontier. They entered Italy in defiance of the anti-anarchistic regulations. The prince was condemned to death in Russia in 1887 for conspiracy against the czar and was expelled from France in 1886 for making bombs.

Famous Caterer Buried.
New York, Sept. 27.—The funeral services of Charles C. Delmonico, who died last Friday in Colorado Springs, were held today in St. Leo's Roman Catholic church in Twenty-eighth street, where a requiem high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Ducey.

Mount Vesuvius In Eruption.
Naples, Sept. 27.—Mount Vesuvius is in eruption. The last eruption of Vesuvius was in the winter of 1898 and 1899. It began in September and lasted well on into the following spring, the cone being broken and the contour of the summit materially changed.

German Actress Is Dead.
Berlin, Sept. 27.—Frau Agnes Wallner, the actress, widow of Francis Wallner, and foster daughter of Robert Blum, is dead. She was 77 years old.
